DETAILED ACTION

The instant application contains pending claims 1-91.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-49, 51-58, 61-80, 82-89 and 91 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-8, 12-34, 38-59 and 63-77 of U.S. Patent No. 6,511,518 B1. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the fuel additive, fuel composition, fuel concentrate, and method comprising the a) a Mannich condensation product, b) a hydrocarbyl-terminated poly(oxyalkylene) monool, and c) a carboxylic acid additive blend and further comprising d) a polyolefin polymer render obvious the same and/or similar a), b), c) and d) additive blend of fuel additives, fuel composition, concentrate and method of the U.S. Patent '518 because the instant application have the open-ended language "comprising" that would not exclude the require polyolefin additive of patentee from the independent claims and several of the dependent claims. Further instant claims 24-29, 53-58 and 84-89 include the polyolefin additive of patentee further rendering the instant claims obvious.

Claims 1-23, 30-52, 59-83 and 90-91 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-8, 12-27, 31-47 and 51-59 of U.S. Patent No. U.S. 6,511,519 B1. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the fuel additive, fuel composition, fuel concentrate, and methods comprising the a) a Mannich condensation product, b) a hydrocarbyl-terminated poly(oxyalkylene) monool, and c) a carboxylic acid additive render obvious the same and/or similar a), b), and c) additive blend of fuel additives, fuel composition, concentrate and methods of the U.S. Patent '519. Even those the ratio of reactants of the additive for the component a) of the instant claims is smaller than the ratio of component a) of patentee and the c) component of acid is a broader range than the c) component of the patentee the instant claims render obvious the claims of patentee.

The prior art filed December 21, 2001 has been reviewed and made of record.

The prior art cited but not applied further teaches fuel additives, fuel composition, methods for blending fuel additive composition, and method of controlling engine deposits with fuel additive blend comprising additives of the same nature as claimed by applicants.
